“We use IDEA on the majority of our audits, both large and small. The most useful feature for us is the ability to import pdf and text files into a usable database even if the data is not well organized. Once imported, analyzing and extraction can be performed easily on the data to target the audit risks. IDEA maintains database integrity, so you can manipulate the data without affecting the integrity of the original database. IDEA also allows you to search for anomalies in an entire population, instead of just a sample of the population.”

Brown, Graham & Company, P.C. is a regional public accounting and consulting firm based in Texas. Its 55 year history, diverse experience and progressive strategic goals combine to provide exceptional security to its clients now and for generations to come.
